Also, if you have more than one, that can only be done at their site, or you can try their phone help line to find out. Thirty patients with relapsed or refractory diffuse large cell lymphoma (DLCL) were entered into a Phase I trial of alemtuzumab, an anti-CD52 monoclonal antibody. Patients received intravenous doses of 10 mg, 20 mg, 30 mg, or 40 mg, three times a week for 3 weeks. Patients had received a median of three prior regimens. The median number of prior regimens was 2 (range 1-7). Alemtuzumab was well tolerated at all doses studied. No unexpected toxicities were observed. Four partial responses (PR) and two minor responses (MR) were observed. Two patients with poor response or progressive disease were removed from the trial after one cycle of therapy. The overall response rate was 12% and the median response duration was 1.6 months. Median survival was 3.7 months. Median survival for patients who had three or fewer prior regimens was 5.2 months and for patients who had greater than three prior regimens was 2.2 months. A higher response rate was observed in patients with a median lymphocyte count greater than or equal to $500 \times 10^6/L$ than in patients with a lymphocyte count less than $500 \times 10^6/L$.
